

EDWARD C. STOELTON

Stoelton and Lambert are acquitted

By HENRY CANTIN

Former Van Buren Township Supervisor Edward C. Stoelton and Romulus businessman Joseph J. Lambert, accused of conspiracy to solicit a $12,000 bribe, were found not guilty by a Wayne County Circuit Court jury.

A jury of 10 women and two men returned the verdict of innocent late Friday morning before Circuit Court Judge Thomas J. Foley after approximately seven hours of deliberations, including a luncheon recess.

Stoelton, 56, of 43308 Alva Dr., Belleville, and Lambert,

60, of 1550 Groton, Bloomfield Hills, were charged with conspiracy to solicit a $12,000 bribe from John Seefelt, co-owner of the State Land Co. of 40192 Willow Run Expressway in return for the issuance of a sand excavation permit by the Van Buren Township Board. Stoelton was alleged to have solicited $10,000 from Seefelt in return for a renewal of the firm's sand removal permit and Lambert was charged with requesting a $2,000 campaign contribution from Mrs. Florence Poniatowski of Van Buren Township, owner of the land on which Seefelt operated his sand excavating operations.

The trial opened on Wednesday, Nov. 10, and the jury received the court's charge last Thursday morning (Nov. 18).

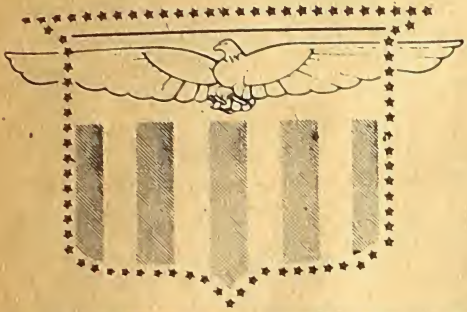

Immediately after the jury's verdict, Stoelton stated that he hopes his name has been vindicated. He had consistently denied the bribery charges, as did Lambert.

The jury returned to the court once before reaching its not guilty verdict. It asked the court to read back the testimony of David Sherman, the other owner of the State Sand Co.

The court told the jury that "when you read back (testimony) it tends to (Continued on Page 3)

Court says Romulus can adopt ordinance

By HENRY CANTIN

Wayne County Circuit Court Judge Charles S. Farmer has ruled in favor of the City of Romulus in a court case involving the city's new master zoning ordinance.

The court granted the city's request for a summary judgement of dismissal filed by City Attorney John E. Young. Arguments on the motion to dismiss were presented several weeks ago. The suit was initiated by a 26-member citizens advisory group when the city council refused to accept petitions for a referendum on the new zoning ordinance adopted May 6, 1971.

By a vote of 4-3 the city council decided to follow the recommendation of its legal counsel, Elsmann, Young and O'Rourke. The law firm had advised the council to reject the petitions on the grounds that the zoning law was not legally subject to a referendum vote.

The citizens advisory group, led by Robert Plank, current president of the Romulus Democratic Club, claimed that the city council ignored the group in its final decision on the zoning ordinance.

The citizens advisory group was organized after the city's first zoning ordinance was contested in court and overwhelmingly rejected in a referendum vote in August, 1970.

City officials felt citizens' participation in drafting a new master zoning ordinance would eliminate unfavorable reaction later. It didn't work.

Ernest Rybeck, attorney for the citizens group stated prior to filing the court suit that committee members objected to changes made in the ordinance by unauthorized persons after the ordinance was approved by the city council.

A few land parcels were rezoned for different uses. "No one knew of the changes until the ordinance was published," the attorney said.

The citizens group reacted by circulating petitions for a referendum. When the council refused to accept them, court litigation was stated.

Rybeck contended in his suit that the residents of Romulus have the right under the city charter to petition for a referendum on any ordinance.

City Attorney Young held that cities can not be forced to hold a referendum on zoning laws. He cited a decision of the State Court of Appeals, which held that zoning ordinances are not subject to a referendum. The court's ruling was made in a case involving the City of Clawson.

The amount of land zoned for multiple-family dwellings and the expansion of a mobile home park in Romulus' first zoning law prompted citizens' objections and it was defeated in a referendum vote. The zoning ordinance was adopted when Romulus was still a township.

While the court suit was pending, the city had decided to continue to use the new zoning ordinance unless the court ordered otherwise.

Indications on Monday were that the citizens advisory group would appeal the court's decision.

The city council's roll call vote on having a referendum was Councilmen William M. Oakley, James C. Stewart and Fred Junior Block in favor and Councilmen Ellis T. Pennington, Edmund W. Bizak, Brooker R. Edwards and Council President Jimmie Raspberry against a referendum.

Townships to pay Dec. 1?

County set to charge for police protection

Beginning Dec. 1, the Wayne County Board of Auditors is slated to begin billing townships for road patrol services provided by the Wayne County Sheriff's Department.

The move could cost Sumpter, Huron and Van Buren townships several thousands of dollars per year. The Wayne County Board of Commissioners Thursday agreed to a recommendation from the board's special subcommittee studying the county budget that townships be billed on the basis of charges agreed upon in a contract between Wayne County and the City of Romulus.

The item will come up for discussion at the next board meeting, set for Dec. 2, and if passed into law, the billing could be made retroactive to Dec. 1.

On Aug. 31 the Wayne County Sheriff's Road Patrol Division took over the police protection of Romulus on a 24-hour a day, seven days a week schedule. The initial cost for the first year of the five-year contract will be $378,000, and the contract is subject to review annually and can be terminated by either party upon 12 months notice after a two-year expiration period.

Under the contract between the county and Romulus, the Romulus Police Department, composed of 10 men, was absorbed by the county department. The move caused considerable controversy, with the Romulus Police Officers Association initiating a suit in Wayne County Circuit Court asking that the proposed merger be stopped pending a full hearing on the association's contention that the city charter calls for a city police department.

Some weeks ago the county board said it was planning to eliminate the road patrol service to outlying communities. Reports that the county would ask $189,000 per year for each road patrol car prompted the formation of the Western Wayne County Supervisors Association.

It appears that the county is expecting a suit from the townships concerning the fact it intends to assess communities for police protection. The commissioners apparently feel they have no alternative but to go through with the billing since their 1970-71 budget is between $5-$10 million in the red now and they are being forced to make extensive cutbacks in every area.

Romulus school board sets special millage vote date

The Romulus Board of Education Monday night scheduled a special millage election.

The election will be held on March 13, when the school district's electorate will be asked to approve a 10-mill renewal levy.

The 10 mills of the school system's current 27.9 mills per $1,000 of assessed valuation, state equalized, for school operations expires with the collection of this year's school property tax. The school district also assesses three mills for debt retirement.

Expiration of the 10 mills means approximately $1.5 million to the operating budget of the school district.

School Superintendent Robert L. McConeghy reported that the school district is using every cent of its current budget to meet operating costs and that the school district can't afford to give up the $1.5 million the 10 mills bring into the district. McConeghy added that the 10 mills takes care of all elementary teacher salaries.

The school board acted on setting up the special election date following a presentation on the urgent need of renewing the expiring levy and a request for direction by McConeghy.

Say county action illegal

Supervisors will not pay

The threat of possible payment by nine Wayne County townships for road patrol services provided by the Wayne County Sheriff's Department brought sharp responses from the supervisors of Huron and Van Buren Townships.

The road patrol services are now furnished free to the townships.

A resolution recommended by a special budget subcommittee of the Wayne County Board of Commissioners calling for payment by the townships presently receiving local road patrol service from the sheriff's department will be up for decision of the board of commissioners a 2 p.m. Dec. 2.

G. Elton Gollwitzer, supervisor of Van Buren Township, said: "We have received no communication or official word from the board of commissioners on this. I know nothing about it except what I read in the newspapers."

"If they do charge for road patrol service to our township, we haven't authorized them to do so. Since there is no authority for paying for such services, we won't feel obligated to pay."

"Naturally we don't pay for anything we don't contract for. That's my personal opinion. I believe the township board feels the same way."

George W. Moore, supervisor of Huron Township said:

"I wouldn't pay the bill. I'd mail it back to them. It is ridiculous. They should know that Huron Township and all the townships now being served by the road patrol can't afford to pay the $189,215 a year for each patrol car assigned to them."

"Why, our general fund budget totals $233,000 for the current fiscal year. They announced recently that they were going to continue the road service to the townships. Now they have apparently changed their minds."

Moore added that the Western Wayne County Supervisors Association decided recently to file a suit against the county sheriff's department, but tabled it when it appeared that the road patrol service would be continued. At a meeting held last week in Plymouth "we decided to go ahead with the court suit."

Moore added that "the commissioners want to charge us for police patrol equipment that we have already paid for by our county tax levy."

The association contends that since the townships involved already pay county taxes, they are entitled to the road patrol services without paying additional taxes.

The dispute centers around economics.

The county commissioners feel that the road patrol operation is an expensive one that does not serve all the county but only sparsely populated areas. The commissioners argue that the townships should pay for the service.

Canterbury Tales to open Friday at the Bonstelle

A musical version of Chaucer's "Canterbury Tales," long-run London hit, opens at the Bonstelle Theatre Friday for three weekends. Performances are Friday and Saturday, Nov. 26 and 27, Dec. 3 and 4 and Dec. 9 and 11 at 8:30, and Sunday, Dec. 12 at 2:30.

The musical is based on the best-selling translation of the "Canterbury Tales" by Nevill Coghill, who held the Merton Chair of English Literature at Oxford University until his recent retirement. He is also co-author of the book (with Martin Starkie) and wrote the lyrics for the musical numbers.

Coghill is also a producer, having produced "A Midsummer Night's Dream" for Sir John Gielgud, the premiere of Vaughan Williams' "The Pilgrim's Progress," and the stage and film productions of "Dr. Faustus" with Richard Burton and Elizabeth Taylor.

The production includes four of the tales told by the Pilgrims on the road to Canterbury Cathedral—the Miller's Tale, the Steward's Tale, the Merchant's Tale and the Wife of Bath's Tale—in this case acted out by the Pilgrims.

"Canterbury Tales" is directed here by Russell Smith, with musical direction by James Hohmeyer and choreography by Katherine Bush.

Tickets at $2.50 and $2 are on sale at the Wayne State University Theatre Box Office, Cass and Hancock, and at J.L. Hudson ticket offices. Further information is available from the Theatre Box Office at 577-2960.

CANTERBURY TALES—Anita Greene and Robert M. Robb will appear in "Canterbury Tales", the hit musical version of Chaucer's ribald English classic which is at the Bonstelle Theatre.

'Trelawny of the Wells' is a historical curiosity

The Wayne State University Theatre presents the Hilberry Repertory Company in "Trelawny of the Wells," a comedy in four acts with one intermission by Sir Arthur Wing Pinero, directed by Richard Spear, sets by Russell Smith, technical direction by Russell Paquette, costumes by Vic Leverett, lighting by Gary M. Witt. At the Hilberry Classic Theatre in repertory through May 20 with the following cast: John Sterling Arnold, Mimi Carr, Thomas B. Hill, David Combs, Howard Jensen, Cheryl Giannini, Dianne Hill, Kathleen Gaffney, James Corrigan, Jeffrey O. Rodman, Layne Littlepage, Dennis Romer, Maryellen Clemons, Timothy Rosborough, Mary Benson, John H. Napierala.

Program notes are not unusual in a playbill but it is a bit unnerving to find them serving as an apologia — as is the case with director Richard Spear's commentary for "Trelawny of the Wells" by Sir Arthur Wing Pinero, which opened the repertory season of Wayne State's Hilberry Classic Theatre last Wednesday.

Spear notes that Pinero began his career with popular farces in the waning era of the well-made play, but responded to "The Second Mrs. Tanqueray," which he described as "drawing room Ibsen, tamed and diluted to fashionable taste." "Trelawny" is a small step forward, but the best Spear can say about it is that it is craftsmanlike and represents its period (1898) perfectly.

"Trelawny" may well have suited its turn-of-the-century conventional audiences, but it is nothing more than a historical curiosity in the mod seventies.

The heroine is one Rose Trelawny, ingenue of the Bagnigge-Wells Theatre company, who falls in love with Arthur Gower, the rich grandson of a stuffy vice-chancellor, and is bored to death with their frozen and cob-webbed society.

She returns to the theater, fearing Arthur will become like his elders, but the youth, to prove that he can live like a "gypsy" too, leaves home to join a theater. When the deserted grandfather realizes he is lonely, the way is cleared for the mawkish happy ending.

Pinero is but one step removed from the deadly ennui of the well-made play. By act two the play's course is as evident as if a plot synopsis were printed. And most of the scenes in an actors' boarding house and on stage of the theater are peopled with cardboard actors with all the unsophistication of an Augustin Daly melodrama.

Only in a scene at Sir William Gower's house does Pinero come alive in a delightful pastiche of high society. Spear is most inventive here from the opening tableau in which Sir William and his sister Miss Trafalgar (named after the battle) are catching an after dinner nap. The Times of London is over their faces and their well-trained son-in-law stumbles as he almost falls asleep standing up.

One of the production's few plusses is the sparkling performance of Dianne Hill as the vibrant Rose. Jeffrey O. Rodman's Sir William is at its best as the stuffy patriarch, but he falters in his countryish modes. Thomas B. Hill and Cheryl Giannini are effective as flamboyant actors, but some of the characters are too large, such as James Corrigan's burlesque-Irish stage prompter.

Russell Smith's set attempts to cope with the problems inherent in trying to squeeze a play which demands a proscenium theater onto a thrust stage.

Sesame Street gang to highlight parade

The Sesame Street gang headed by Big Bird and a huge elephant with ears that flap in the wind highlight this year's Thanksgiving Day Santa Parade sponsored by The J.L. Hudson Company.

Dumbo, the fantasy-land creature with ears that propel him along, will be surrounded by an entourage of jungle friends including elephants, tigers, lions, and hippos.

Ernie and Bert along with Cookie Monster, Oscar and Big Bird join the fun and frolic as they ride along Woodward Avenue on their brand new Sesame Street float. A jumbled assortment of brightly colored letters and numerals provides a familiar setting for this well known crew.

They're all part of the 45th annual parade which features 18 floats, 11 bands, over 2,000 marchers, clowns baton twirlers, even unicyclists.

Besides floats there are 11 bands in this year's march. Michigan bands include those from Detroit, Port Huron, Berkley, East Detroit, Troy and Franklin Village. Out of state bands are from Pickerington, Ohio; Kokomo, Indiana; Wintersville, Ohio and Sandusky Ohio.

Additional groups are: — The Jane-ettes of East Palestine, Ohio, an all-girl drum and baton corps who have won over 500 awards throughout five states over a ten year period. These include an Ohio State Championship and Tri-State Championship. The Jane-ettes will lead off the parade, just ahead of the Detroit Police Mounted Division.

— The clown units - Zal Gaz Clown Alley led by Happy the Clown from Toledo, Ohio, and Valentes Formalaire Clowns of Grosse Pointe, Michigan. Valentes Formalaire Clowns of Grosse Pointe, Michigan.

JACK-IN-THE-BOX—The smiling clown who rises to a height of 32 feet once again glides down Woodward Avenue in The J.L. Hudson Company's Thanksgiving Day Parade. More than half a million people see the parade each year and millions more view it on CBS-TV. This year's coverage will begin at 10:15 a.m. Thanksgiving Day.

'Cry Uncle' is crude more than it is funny

By HOWARD ALLEN
Eagle Movie Critic

It is most unlikely that any attention at all would be paid to "Cry Uncle" were it not directed by John Avildsen.

But Avildsen's direction of "Joe" boosts him into the front ranks and, as was suggested in "Death of a Salesman," attention must be paid.

Ten years ago it was easy to draw a line of demarcation and segregate pornography, but the borders are far too blurred for such easy categorization today.

Allen Garfield stars as the absolute antithesis of the hard boiled private eye popularized by Black Mask, a horny, paunchy, middle-aged dick, albeit a comic one. He's hired by a wealthy dirty old man to solve a murder for which the millionaire is afraid he'll be blamed.

The going isn't that easy, since every time the detective comes up against a female suspect she stops him cold by dragging him into bed with her — but ultimately he muddles through.

"Cry Uncle" is crude more than it is funny, but in some fashion akin to counter-culture, it is occasionally effective satire. But Avildsen could have managed to polish it a bit more without damaging his X rating.

Raspberry explains vote on busing issue

The Romulus City Council has adopted a resolution opposing the busing of children across the city and district lines solely to achieve "racial balance" in schools. The resolution was approved by the city council by a roll call vote of 4-3. Council President Jimmie Raspberry Monday issued a statement explaining his opposition vote to the resolution. He said:

"U.S. District Court Judge Stephen J. Roth has not ruled on the question of cross district busing. When the decision comes down, it will apparently be appealed to the United States Supreme Court. Only then will the decision be the law of the land."

"Of course, at this point I will and do support the United States Supreme Court. I am against busing children out of the Romulus School District. I am not in favor of busing children from other school districts into Romulus because:

"First, we and the Romulus School District support our schools."

"Secondly, the people of Romulus by the majority, have indicated that they do not want children bused out of Romulus."

"I am for integration. I do support the Romulus School System and support any millage for additional schools in order that busing situation may be minimized within the Romulus School District."

The resolution adopted by the city council was similar to one approved by the Dearborn City Council recently.

Bills won't be paid saying that paying a fee for service already supported by taxes is, in effect, double taxation and is illegal.

Breen, an attorney, argues that the townships cannot afford the $189,215 a year for each patrol car assigned to them.

Other townships affected by the commissioners' decision besides Van Buren, Huron and Sumpter are Plymouth, Northville, Canton, Brownstown and Grosse Ile.

Redford Township, a member of the association, will not be affected by the decision. It has its own police force.

The City of Romulus has a law enforcement contract with the sheriff's department. The city pays $379,000 a year for 24-hour road patrol service.

AT BRANCH BANK OPENINGS — The National Bank of Detroit held grand opening ceremonies last Tuesday for two Romulus branches of NBD. The ceremonies were conducted at the Metro Airport branch, 10421 Middlebelt Rd., Romulus. NBD's other new branch is at Eureka and Wahrman roads. Displaying momentos of the event is Frank

Sumpter police chief's job offer is rejected

By HENRY CANTIN

The Sumpter Township Board of Trustees unanimously approved the appointment of an often decorated ex-Marine sergeant and former marksman narcotics agent for the U.S. Treasury Department as the township's first chief of police, but the offer was subsequently rejected.

The appointment was made during the first week of November.

DAVID W. McNEALY

Last week, the man selected by the township board rejected the position to remain at his present post in the investigation division of the Wayne County Prosecutor's office.

David W. McNealy, 40, of 6664 Gloria St., Romulus, a telegram dispatched to township officials, reported that he had decided to stay with the Wayne County Prosecutor's office.

The employment contract with Sumpter Township was only for one year with a starting salary of $10,000.

McNealy said Saturday that he is presently covered by civil service and is receiving $13,020 annually with $90 per month car allowance. In addition, the fringe benefits are greater at his present post.

Although he has turned down the Sumpter post, McNealy reported he is still receiving calls to accept. He admits that he filed an application for the position and is "very flattered" by the board's action in appointing him, but said that after further consideration he decided against accepting the job.

Township Supervisor Elmer Parraghi, who conferred with McNealy last week, reports that the board's action was without his approval. He added that the announcement of McNealy's appointment in Detroit was premature.

McNealy, who has been a Wayne County Prosecutor's investigator since Oct. 26, 1970, is married and the father of four children. His wife is expecting their fifth child.

Sumpter Township, with a population of between 8,000 - 9,000 presently has a nine-man police force with the highest rank being sergeant. The duties of police chief are performed by the township supervisor.

McNealy, who was wounded in 1957 in a shootout with drug pushers in St. Louis while working as a narcotics agent with the federal treasury department wounded by shrapnel in the Vietnam conflict, certainly does not look like a police officer or investigator for that matter.

He is a slight 5-foot-7, about 150 pounds and is often mistaken for a professor with his soft manner of speaking. McNealy was a narcotics agent for three years and a narcotics inspector for the Illinois Department of Public Safety.

He is currently studying for a Bachelor of Art degree in police administration at Wayne State University. He studied history for two years at Howard University in Washington.

He held positions of mailman, plant guard at General Motors and later was a personnel interviewer. He also spent 12 months as a public safety officer at Oakland University.

McNealy is also a member of the Military Order of the Purple Heart and active in the VFW.

While in Vietnam, McNealy was recommended for a field commission but was returned to the United States before the promotion order could be processed. He was decorated for gallantry by the Vietnamese government.

emphasize that testimony over that of another. He asked the jury "to rely the best you can on your memories."

The jury requested a clarification of the judge's charge about the parallel theories of guilt and innocence and whether or not one defendant could be found guilty and the other not guilty.

The court, in answering the last inquiry by the jury, said if it found one not guilty, then it must find both defendants not guilty.

Judge Foley reminded the jury the charge was conspiracy, which requires two or more persons, and in this situation that there are only two defendants.

Both Stoelton and Lambert took the witness stand in their own defense. A series of character witnesses testified in behalf of each defendant. All testified that they both had good reputations for integrity and honesty.

Stoelton, who is presently a Ford Motor Co. machine repair supervisor, was defeated for re-election in the Democratic primaries in August, 1970.

The plaintiffs had charged the alleged bribery attempt occurred during September and October of 1970. The township board approved renewal of Seefelt's sand excavation permit on Oct. 27, 1970.

Lambert is presently the manager of the Romulus branch of the Secretary of State's office and owner and operator of the Landing Strip Bar, located on Goddard Road at Shook Road, Romulus.

Stoelton testified that after telling Seefelt on two occasions in the fall of 1970 that the sand excavating operations should be "cleaned up," Seefelt asked him "how much influence I had in getting him a permit."

"I told him to use the regular channels," Stoelton said under questioning by his lawyer Carl Ziemba.

"That was the time he offered me two cents a yard (for each yard of sand hauled out of the sand removing operations)."

"I told him not to be ridiculous. I was mad and I left without talking to him any more," Stoelton stated.

Stoelton said that he knew Lambert for 30 years and during this time developed a close friendship with him.

He testified that the last visit he made to the sand removal pits was on Nov. 20, his last day in office. He said he found holes had not been filled in yet and said he directed a township employee to use a township truck to block the sand company's driveway and to leave the truck there until the job was done.

Mrs. Florence Poniatowski testified that Lambert visited her residence on Oct. 8, 1970 and asked her for a $2,000 campaign contribution for Stoelton's campaign.

Stoelton, testifying in his own defense, said that on several occasions he had told Seefelt, treasurer of the State Land Co., that his (Seefelt's) operations were not meeting the township's regulations for sand removing operations.

Stoelton denied he had demanded money from Seefelt to assure his operating permit would be renewed.

3 junior backs make All-Area '11'

By TOM MOORADIAN
Sports Editor

A senior line, which features at least two All-State candidates, combined with a backfield that has three runningbacks who have rushed for more than 1,000 yards for this year's All-Area high school football offensive team.

Kirk Lewis, who is a shoo-in to make it as an All-State end, the first all-stater in Garden City West's football history, and Keith Simms, the versatile athlete from Belleville High who pins down a tackle post, lead an offensive line that averages 210-plus pounds across.

Also drafted for this year's mythical team are Dennis Finfrack, (John Glenn-End), Carl Sanders (Inkster-Tackle), Doug Evans (Cherry Hill-Guard), Tim Anderson (Robichaud-Guard), Mike Graham (Livonia Franklin-Center), Mike Dansard (Belleville-Halfback), Tony LaPere (Wayne Memorial-Halfback), Dennis Burton (Garden City East-Halfback), Tony LaPere (Wayne Memorial-Halfback), Dennis Burton (Garden City East-Halfback) and Steve Orr (Garden City East-Quarterback).

Picked as the Coach of the Year is Garden City West's Robert Draheim.

Lewis provided the impetus for Garden City West's first Tri-River Conference championship. An unanimous all-conference selection, Kirk snared 64 passes for 1150 yards, scored 10 touchdowns and 12 point after during his prep career. He was also the team's best blocker.

"He is a great all-round player," said Coach Draheim. "He was our leader both on offense and defense."

As a defensive end, and later a linebacker, Kirk averaged six tackles per game and accounted for four interceptions, finishing the season with a total of six "steals". A nine-letterman and a three-year starter, Lewis holds the school's all-time scoring record.

The 6-foot-4, 225-pound senior also has starred in basketball and in track and is expected to form the nucleus for a winning Tiger cage season.

Lewis is not only brilliant on the field, but also in the classroom where he is a straight "A" student — No. 1 in a class of 475.

Simons is another one of those "blue chip" gridders who has been scouted by almost every major college and university in the U.S. A 6-foot-3, 240-pound tackle, who went both ways, Keith can cover the 50-yard dash in five seconds.

A two-way performer for Coach Keith Emerson, Simons has a good shot at All-State honors and would become the first griddler in recent Belleville football history to make the grade.

"Prep of the Week" selection, Simons made All-Suburban 8. He worked on offense displaying exceptional blocking acuity, and where he is considered a menace at all times.

On defense, Simons received credit for 54 primary tackles and 53 assists, in lifting Belleville to a 5-4 won-lost over-all record which is the best finish for the Tigers in nearly a decade.

At the opposite tackle slot is Inkster's lone representative to this year's team, Sanders. At 255-pounds, Carl is the heaviest griddler on the line and he's "also the meanest", says head coach Arnice James.

"He's the most aggressive and meanest player I have had the privilege to coach," said James. "Carl just loves to hit and 11 colleges have already expressed interest in him."

A three-year veteran, Sanders' contribution to the Vikings cause included seven solo tackles per game. He opened the holes for the Vikings' speedy backfield.

Finfrack had 12 receptions and five touchdowns for Glenn, which came up with a 5-3 over-all record.

"He did a tremendous job for us," said Coach Bob Lusk. "As a wide receiver, Dennis gave us a winning edge and he is one of the most all-round athletes we had on the team this year."

Anderson rounded out four years of varsity competition at the Dearborn Heights high school and is the lone holdover from last year's All-Area aggregation. A left guard who doubled as a middle linebacker for Coach Bob Yauck, Tim developed into the team's leading blocker and host of the Bulldog plays were run over Anderson's side.

An all-Mid-Wayne Conference choice as well, Anderson averaged 18 tackles per game and if that figure appears exaggerated, one must remember that Robichaud used only one linebacker, giving Tim a shot at anyone who came through the line.

The 6-foot-2, 210 pound senior also nabbed three pass interceptions and carried two back for touchdowns, one for 55 yards and the other for 36.

The other guard, Evans was voted Cherry Hill's Most Valuable Player and was one of the bright spots in Cherry Hill's rather dismal season.

"We consider him an outstanding college prospect," said Coach Joe LaScola. "We left the MVP award up to the players and they chose Doug as the recipient."

"He was our leader both on and off the field and if we would have had a winning season, he probably would have gotten more ink."

Graham, who has been selected as a Northwest Suburban Conference's center in the past two years, had little difficulty getting the job on the All-Area team. A much-sought after athlete by the colleges, Mike co-captained Coach George Lovich's Patriots this season.

"He was an outstanding center for us and a good blocker," said Lovich. "You're going to hear plenty about him once he gets to college."

For the first time in recent years, three juniors captured berths in the backfield. They had the stats to prove they belonged there.

Burton, one of the most exciting runningbacks to hit the prep scene in a long time, chalked up 1240 yards and 13 touchdowns in East's 7-2 season. The Panthers went to Burton when they needed yardage, and Dennis came through.

"He's the best back I've seen in this area," said Coach Gary Humphrey, who has been head coach at East High for the past six years. "His agility, speed and quick-thinking makes him a tough man to stop."

East has managed to win three straight titles during Humphrey's tenure and it split this year's Mid-Wayne Conference championship with Wayne Memorial.

Burton will have a chance to test his football know-how in the Northwest Suburban next year, a league the Panthers will become affiliated with after the current school year. LaPere surely would have reached the 1,000 yard mark if

The votes are in

Was that a sigh of relief - or despair - I heard from the wives of our area high school football coaches this weekend?

Forced to contact the coaches for their All-Area selections, I found that many of them had skipped town for their first weekend of freedom and left their wives home (as usual) to answer the phones.

In order to get some of the coaches, I had to phone as far north as Sault St. Marie and East Tawas.

But the job is done.

The coaches have spoken.

The fans, as many as 300 hundred strong also expressed their thoughts about the All-Area football team, and we would like to extend a special thanks to them for their help.

The players have been picked. They represent 12 area high schools - and we congratulate them for their outstanding performances.

We know that there are many, many worthy players - but decisions must be made and The Associated Newspapers and The Daily Eagle Sports Staff have made them.

If there is any flak, then it should be aimed at this department - and nowhere else.

When you have five halfbacks who have rushed for over 1,000 yards and only three to place in that backfield then, as the cliché goes, something has to give.

If picking 22 players had us "up the wall" the selection of this year's top football coach placed us on the couch.

Top candidates for the job were Keith Emerson, (Belleville); Bob Yauck (Dearborn Heights Robichaud); Wayne Gorman (Wayne Memorial); Bob Lusk (Westland John Glenn); Gary Humphrey (Garden City East) and Robert Draheim (Garden City West).

Each had contributed immensely to the success of his team.

Emerson took the Tigers to a fifth place finish in the Suburban Six last year to a respectable 5-4 over-all record and a fourth place in the Suburban 8 Conference; Yauck inherited a last place Robichaud team a couple of years ago and in two years made the Bulldogs a serious title contender in the Mid-Wayne. Gorman continues to turn out championship teams at Wayne.

Robichaud was the only area team to beat defending Mid-Wayne champ. Garden City East. The Bulldogs also had a five-game winning streak - the longest in recent years before they lost their starting quarterback, Cesero Medley to an injury, then went on to lose their next four games.

Lusk forged a contender out of the Rockets in the Northwest Suburban Conference, polishing off a respectable 5-3 record on the season, while Humphrey retained a share of the conference title, won the city (Garden City) title to wind up the year with a 7-2 won-lost record - the best record of any area coach.

Draheim reversed West's football destiny, making a winner of the Tigers after they had been used as doormats for so many years in the Tri-River. Draheim managed to guide his team to six consecutive victories, a school record, before ending the year with a 6-3 record.

Who would you pick for your Coach of the Year?

And that, dear reader, is a rhetorical question — please,

BOB DRAHEIM

Garden City West is eight years old.

And until this year the Tigers have never won a football championship. But now everything has changed and the one man responsible for reversing the tide is head coach Robert Draheim.

Draheim guided the West team to a 6-3 over-all record and a share of the Tri-River Conference championship and in doing so earned The Associated Newspapers' Coach of the Year honors.

"I feel that the difference in this and previous years was 'confidence'," said Draheim, who rounded out his third year as the West mentor. "In previous years our teams lacked the confidence to win."

"I feel we have turned the corner here at West and the future has to be bright," added Draheim.

No more dirty work with a self-cleaning Gas range.

Just think of it. You'll never have to get down on your hands and knees to scrape and scrub the dirty, greasy insides of your oven again. Because today's modern Gas ranges have self-cleaning ovens.

Forget about baked-on splatters. And rock-like spills.

With a self-cleaning oven all you have to do is turn a knob and the messiest job in your home (oven cleaning) takes care of itself. Giving you time to take care of the more pleasant things in your life.

But a self-cleaning oven is just one good feature in today's modern Gas range.

With Gas you have the advantage of smokeless closed door broiling. Infinite heat control. And best of all, total economy. Because a modern Gas range uses less Gas to do the same job. And a Gas range costs about one-fourth as much to operate as an electric one.

So before the holidays, stop by your dealer or any Michigan Consolidated Gas Company showroom, and buy a new Gas range with a full range of features.

A new Gas range will save you Gas and money too. And remember—oven cleaning is no job for a lady.

Defense is the name of the game

GARY KRAJEWSKI
Belleville

A good offense is only half of the game, ask any football coach. The game is either won or lost on defense and the 1971 All-Area defensive edition has assembled in it the work horse of five leagues and an "independent" to forge an formidable defense.

Only one junior was able to break into the otherwise all-senior defensive ranks and he brings with him outstanding credits. Dave Persichini, an interior lineman, led Garden City East to a Mid-Wayne co-championship en route became the Panthers' leading tackler.

Persichini is the lone junior to make the All-Area defensive ranks this year. The Panther co-captain was the team's defensive leader, according to coach Gary Huhphrey.

Also stalwarts who were chosen are Frank Cameron (Huron - Interior Line), Charles Clark (Franklin-

John Dillard (Robichaud end) and Ron Wasczenski (East-End).

Clark, an all Northwest Suburban Conference offensive lineman last year, was switched to defensive tackle where he again made the all-league team. An outstanding hitter, Clark is an aggressive and tough griddy who is a tremendous college prospect, according to coach George Lovich.

The 6-foot-0, 197 pound senior runs a 4.7 for the 40 yard dash and used to beat some of the backs in the wind sprints.

"If any one on our team has a chance to make it in college, then it'll be Clark," said Lovich.

Cameron is another one of those "hard-nosed griddy" who co-captained Lee Smeltzer's Chiefs to a winning season this year, paving the way for their third consecutive winning year after years of winless seasons.

Cameron was also picked on the tough Huron Conference team.

"He's a tough competitor," said Smeltzer. "We're going to find him very difficult to replace."

At one of the ends is Robichaud's John "The Cat" Dillard who earned the nickname for stalking his opponents. Dillard, a 6-foot-3, 180-pound senior was the team's leading tackler in three of the eight games and also picked off two pass interceptions.

He has played varsity ball for Coach Bob Yauck's teams for the past three years.

A 5-foot-11, 180-pound linebacker, Greg accounted for 75 tackles in eight games and recovered three fumbles. He was also the team's "inspirational leader", according to coach Ken Kaestner.

"He's the best football player I have ever coached in my 14 seasons," said Kaestner. "And, according to Larry Joiner, the athletic director, 'Greg compared with the other great linebackers produced in Livonia.'"

Davis averaged 15 tackles per game in paving the way for Wayne's second title season.

"He's a great all-round leader and one of the best football players on the squad this season," said Coach Wayne Gorman. "He also is the best hitter."

Davis was presented the team's "Most Dedicated Award" and was one of the unanimous all-Mid-Wayne conference choices.

Krajewski played havoc on rival ball-carriers as he led the attack from his linebacker's slot. A senior who was named to the All-Suburban Conference team, team, Gary also won all-area recognition as a grappler, a feat he could duplicate this year.

McMann is an All-Suburban and All-State candidate who brings to the mythical team impressive credentials, including 14 interceptions and four blocked punts.

The 6-foot-5, 190-pound senior also was in on 89 tackles and on offense he caught 21 passes for 470 yards and two touchdowns.

"He's the type of player that always gives you 125 percent," said Coach George Pratt. "He was a pleasure to watch on the field."

Lee established a school record when he picked up five interceptions this year to bring his total at Glenn to 10.

The 6-foot-0, 170-pound safety co-captained the Rockets to a 5-3 won-lost season and he managed to account for 40 solo tackles and 28 assists.

"He has a knack to knock where the football is," said Coach Bob Lusk. "And he had been our team leader for the past two years."

Lee, who also lettered in basketball and baseball, is a member of the national honor society.

Rounding out the defensive unit is Keister, a dynamic defensive halfback who played over injuries all year. Despite the injuries, Keister managed to intercept six passes and thwart many drives into his area.

"This boy was bothered with broken fingers," said Coach Gorman, "and he also suffered a hip-pointer the last two games but still played outstanding ball games for us."

"We're going to miss him next year," Gorman added.

GC East-West rule All-Area golf team

Two sophomores on the All-Area golf team? That's right, folks. Not one - but an unprecedented two. But, then, it was an unprecedented high school golf season.

Garden City East's outstanding linksman Paul Reed and West's Bill Anderson, both sophomores, proved they were good enough to make the grade as All-Area golfers.

Also drafted for the mythical team were East senior Jerry Pawlak West junior Mike Dobos and "outsider" Terry Lemieau from Wayne High.

It was the first time that high school golfers competed in the fall, breaking away from the traditional spring sports competition and, apparently, that was all these young golfers needed - a couple of months of rigid summer practice to whip themselves into shape for the fall test.

Reed is sort of a "mystery man". His uncanny performance this season also surprised interim Garden City East golf coach Len Bartlo who says: "For a sophomore he has a lot of poise and works extremely well under pressure."

"I really don't know where he learned to play so well," said Bartlo, who handled the coaching chores for Ralph Davis, Davis, veteran Panther coach, was sidelined with an arthritic shoulder at the beginning of the fall season.

Reed fired an 83 at the Salem Hills Golf Club to emerge as medalist at the Western Wayne Golf Meet, one of the meets that helps decide the All-Area team. However, the young lad didn't have a chance to really compete in his conference, the Mid-Wayne, because the conference has only three schools with golf teams. (This is one of the reasons why East decided to leave the Mid-Wayne for the Northwest Suburban, where all six high schools have golf.)

Pawlak, a senior who has been the impetus behind the Panther squad for the past three years, teamed with Reed to provide Coach Bartlo with a 1-2 punch.

At the WW tourney, Jerry was only one stroke back and was tied for runnerup honors with Anderson.

Anderson and Dobbs brought golf respectability back to West after a dismal spring session which found the Tigers in the second division of the Tri-River Conference League.

Kitzman finished third in the conference race to Taylor Kennedy and Crestwood, something he had only dreamed about in the fall.

For his achievement, The Daily Eagle has named Kitzman as the "Coach of the Year."

Kitzman's Tigers compiled an 11-6 over-all record this year and finished in third place

"I'm only losing one senior this year and, I've got two juniors and seven sophomores coming up," Kitzman said. "If they keep improving like they did last year, we should be in for some pretty good years in the near future."

Along with his other successes this season, Kitzman's Tigers captured the traveling trophy, presented annually by the Garden City Jaycees.

Junior backs dominate All-Area 11

he had played nine-games, but Wayne had an eight-game schedule. The senior runningback compiled a total of 950 yards in 140 carries and was forced to play over injuries in his final two outings.

"He was our key," said Wayne Gorman. "We knew we could rely on him."

Wayne managed to emerge with its second consecutive title, despite the loss of their outstanding quarterback Rick Stevens who suffered a broken arm during the initial game of the season.

Belleville's offensive sparkplug was junior halfback, Dansard, who tallied 14 touchdowns - five against Ypsilanti Lincoln. Also a member of the elite "1000-yard club", Mike established a one-game rushing record at 282-yards. He carried less than 200 times in picking up 1058 yards. Mike also intercepted 3 passes and carried one back for a touchdown.

"He has tremendous potential," said Coach Keith Emerson. "He's fast, explosive and next year I feel he should be even greater."

Orr, great at calling audibles and an excellent reader of defenses, was tagged as "the key to our defense" by Coach Humphrey.

The 5-foot-7, 140-pound junior pulled East out of many a tight spot this season and led the Panthers back from an opening day defeat to a 7-2 season and the conference championship.

Orr had an accurate arm, hitting on 56 percent of his passes. He scored eight touchdowns and three for five others and rushed for more than 500 yards.

National PTA gives UN support

On the heels of recent criticism of the United Nations, Mrs. John M. Mallory, president of the multi-million member National PTA, has issued a statement to all members of the Congress in support of the UN.

"We are aware that important decisions are being made about the UN and about U.S. participation in this international organization," Mrs. Mallory said. "On behalf of its membership, the National PTA wishes to record its belief that the UN should be supported as the best possible instrument for world peace."

Quoting from the 1971-72 legislative program of the National PTA, Mrs. Mallory said, "Diligent efforts for international cooperation should be made through use of United Nations channels - to improve the economic, social, physical and spiritual welfare of all children and youth."

Mrs. Mallory also urged senators and congressmen to continue the program of the United Nations Children's Fund (UNICEF). She said the National PTA supports in principle to work of specialized agencies of the UN, such as the United Nations Educational, Scientific, and Cultural Organization (UNESCO), the World Health Organization (WHO), the Food and Agriculture Organization (FAO) and the United Nations Development Program (UNDP).

"In addition, hemispheric programs such as the Alliance for Progress, which are related to regional organizations established within the framework of the United Nations and which are designed to develop understanding, respect, and cooperation among nations, should be supported," Mrs. Mallory said.

The National PTA supports a broad program of cultural and educational exchange between the United States and other countries, and assistance by the U.S. in the training of teachers and other professional and technical personnel for other countries.

"The programs of the UN which involve children are of particular importance to the members of the National PTA - the largest voluntary organization working totally in the interest of children," Mrs. Mallory pointed out. "If these programs are not continued, the losers will be the young people with whom our children are growing up - the builders of the world of tomorrow."

Cub Pack 1739 holds meeting at Harrison

Cub Scout Pack 1739 of Romulus held its recent meeting at Harrison Elementary School, located at 14701 Harrison Rd., Romulus.

The meeting has opened with a color guard composed of scouts from Boy Scout Troop 1739, including Lewis McLoughlin, Glenn Millar, Mike McCallum and Ken McLoughlin.

The theme for the month of October had been "Fire Detective" and in keeping with the theme, two firemen from the Romulus Fire Department were guests at the meeting.

They spoke to the boys about fire safety and demonstrated fire fighting equipment and clothing.

Following through with the theme, the Cubs of Den 2 demonstrated what has kept them occupied at den meetings during the previous weeks. This was learning how to build several types of campfires which they simulated at the Pack meeting, and the different items they had or made for safety around the campfire. Den 2 is under the leadership of Den Mother, Mrs. Nan Kidder.

Awards were then given to cubs who had earned them during the past month. These included: Don Gregory, two-year pin; Dean Cox, Aquanaut and Outdoorsman badges; Randy Jernigan, Bobcat pin; Douglas Cox, Denner bars; Michael Fencik, Assistant Denner bars; Douglas Cox, Recruiter badge; Davis McCallum, Naturalist badge; and Bear Books to Robert Deschenes and Stephen Moultrie on the occasion of their ninth birthdays.

A new Den Mother who had been recruited was introduced. She is Mrs. Maryjane Stanczak.

The highlight of the evening was the pack's first graduation of a Cub into the ranks of Boy Scouting. This ceremony was hosted by the boys of Scout Troop 1739.

Gunman robs rental office

A lone gunman held up the Budget Rent-A-Car office at 8600 Merriman in Romulus Sunday and escaped with $40 in cash.

Employees at the office told Wayne County Sheriff's detectives that the man entered the building about 1 p.m., pulled a gun and announced a holdup.

The two employees gave the bandit the money, in various denominations, and he then fled on foot.

Road group criticized by commissioners

Three Wayne County commissioners today criticized the County Road Commission for failing to make available the preliminary findings of a Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) study of alleged job discrimination at Metropolitan Airport.

The road commission operates the airport, but most of the airport work force is employed by private businesses which operate members,

The three commissioners, members of the Human Relations Committee of the County Board of Commissioners, met with staff of the road commission Nov. 11 to discuss the FAA findings, but were told by the road commission spokesmen that the preliminary findings should be obtained from the FAA.

As a result, Commissioner William L. Dunbar, the committee chairman, asked the FAA to withhold its final report until the preliminary findings have been made available to the committee for review and recommendations regarding them.

In addition to Dunbar, those meeting with the road commission staff were Commissioners Paul Silver (D-District 11) and Joseph F. Young (D-District 4), both of Detroit, and Joyce F. Garrett, county human relations director.

Dunbar made his request in a telegram to R.I. Dixon, chief of the civil rights staff of the Great Lakes regional FAA office at Des Plaines, Ill.

The three commissioners asked the road commission representatives for a copy of the preliminary summary of findings after learning that Dixon had sent the findings to the road commission on Oct. 13.

In a cover letter, Dixon told Road Commission Managing Director James M. Davey that his final report and recommendations would be completed by mid-November.

The three commissioners also criticized the Road Commission for not working with the staff of Mrs. Garrett's office during the in-depth Wayne County Road Commission staff discussions held relative to the findings, which included visits by Road Commission staff members to the regional FAA office "to change the summary of findings."

"The Human Relations Committee believes," the three commissioners stated jointly, "that because some $41 million in federal funds may be held up and placed in jeopardy by the FAA for said alleged discriminatory practices at Detroit Metropolitan Wayne Airport, the summary of findings should be made available immediately to the committee."

In an Oct. 19 letter to Mrs. Garrett, Dixon disclosed that he had sent the preliminary summary of findings to Davey on Oct. 13. Regarding the upcoming final report, he stated:

"It is anticipated that that report will include a recommendation that the road commission share the report with your office and seek your assistance in correcting deficiencies and developing a sound program of affirmative action for the airport. It is expected also that the report will recognize the appropriateness and potential effectiveness of a monitoring and evaluating role for your office."

The preliminary findings are based on a survey of employment patterns at the airport, conducted during July and August by the FAA. Most employment at the airport is by private businesses which lease facilities there. Those firms were asked to fill out forms reporting the racial makeup of their work forces.

Man robbed, shot

An Allen Park man is in satisfactory condition in Wayne County General Hospital after he was robbed and shot in the parking lot of a Romulus bar Saturday night.

Francis Arquette told Wayne County Sheriff's officers he was getting out of his car in the lot next to the Middlebelt Bar, 6221 Middlebelt, at about 9:30 when two men accosted him from behind.

One of the two pulled a gun and demanded Arquette's money, the victim said, and when he turned to run, the man fired. He was struck once in the lower abdomen.

The robbers escaped with $4 in cash and Arquette's wallet.

Trooper visits schools

Trooper Robert Patell of the Ypsilanti State Police Post last week visited the Elwell Elementary School, located 17601 Elwell Rd., Belleville, to present the Green Pennant for safety.

He explained to the children the meaning of the Green Pennant and why it was being presented to the school.

He also cautioned the children on the importance of bus safety and why it was important to follow the rules of good school bus safety.

A film entitled "The Big Yellow Bus," was shown. It pointed out the rules of good bus safety. This was followed by a question and answer period.

PRESENTS GREEN PENNANT — State Police Trooper Robert Patell of the Ypsilanti State Police Post presents a Green Pennant to the Elwell Elementary School, Belleville, for the school's safety record. Receiving the pennant for the school is Captain of the Elwell School Safety Patrol Jeff Redden, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Redden of 21420 Elwell Rd., Belleville.

School guidelines offered

A more pragmatic approach to educating the high school student is being recommended to local districts by the State Board of Education in an attempt to better prepare teenagers for their imminent leap into adulthood... In a report entitled "The Age of Majority" the state board has issued guidelines for local districts to pattern their curricula after in order to cope with the new legal age of majority.

Noting that the lowering of the age of majority has created a pressing need for secondary schools to reorient their curricula, the report made recommendations in six areas including, voting, contractual agreements, economics, occupational, legal proceedings and general school rules.

In the area of civics, which covers voting, the board requested local districts to re-evaluate their programs to assure that the course offerings are meeting the requirements of "real world" participation.

The board suggests, "teachers of civic courses should take special pains to focus their programs less on the functions of government in the rather academic, textbook sense, and more on the real world functions of governments."

The board also stressed that the districts should take a second, critical look at their course materials to see that they too meet this criteria.

With the lowering of the majority age 18 year olds will be able to enter into contractual agreements and the state board is urging the local districts to acquaint their students with the mechanisms of credit, personal property contracts, insurance and real property.

The entry of the 18 year old into the adult economic world necessitates a new emphasis on the practical aspects of economic education, according to the report. In this area the state board is recommending that improved economic courses be offered to students on all grade levels with a new emphasis on consumer education.

To protect the newly endowed adult in the world of work the state board is recommending that the schools give more attention to programs such as workmen's compensation, social security, welfare and minimum wage laws.

The new status allows an 18 year old to initiate civil suits and the board is recommending schools to incorporate courses designed to give the student an understanding of civil and criminal law, with an emphasis on the role of the plaintiff as well as that of the defendant.

Persons 18 years and older will now be able to make out their own will for the first time, receive inheritances, voluntarily commit themselves and seek medical treatment for themselves. According to the state board, these areas should also be given consideration.

The new legislation will make it permissible for 18 years olds to consume tobacco and alcoholic beverages. Despite this fact the state board contends that local boards will be able to continue prohibiting consumption on school property. The board urges the districts to adopt strict guidelines in this area. The only change is that 18 year olds will be able to carry tobacco products on their person in school.

On the matter of general school rules the state board denied that two sets of guidelines, one for those students below 18 and another for those above had to be adopted.

FUN FITNESS PROGRAM - Special interest and enrichment classes under the direction of Romulus School District's Continuing Education Program are being conducted at Romulus Senior High School and Harrison Elementary School. The physical fitness enthusiasts are being directed in their exercises by Mrs. Chris Powers (left), class instructor. The class meets every Thursday night. Further information can be obtained from William Smith, community-school director, at 941-1600.

Large audience attends

The Romulus Senior High School Theatre Arts Club production, "The Mouse That Roared," attracted the largest audiences yet, reported David Ferdon, director.

"We had between two and three hundred people each night," he said. "The audiences were wonderful - warm, receptive and helpful to those who were having some problems with their lines," Ferdon said.

The cast numbered 32 actors, and about 25 had never before performed on a stage, said Ferdon. "But they are a lot wiser now and I thought Saturday night's performance was actually sparkling."

Ferdon predicts that Romulus theatre-goers will see those 25 beginners doing a lot more acting in the future. "Something gets into your blood and I think they caught it," he said.

Detroit building renovated to house Salvation Army center

The Salvation Army, noted for redeeming wasted lives and restoring discarded household goods, has now turned to the task of reclaiming a Detroit building that only months ago seemed ripe for the wrecker's ball.

The Central Detroit Warehouse building at Fort and 10th streets has been vacant for almost a year, and is now being thoroughly renovated for the Army by the H.F. Campbell Company, and will become the new headquarters of the Salvation Army's Social Service Center.

and recreation facilities for 300 men, a new chapel, workshops for the repair of household discards and a new Red Shield store.

Deane Baker, president of the H.F. Campbell Company, Detroit-based building firm which is doing the renovation project, said the building will provide the Salvation Army with modern facilities in a large, fireproof building that could not be duplicated today for the $3 million which the Army has allocated for the project.

Scouts need an assistant

The Junior Girl Scout Troop of St. Anthony's Catholic Church of Belleville needs an assistant leader, it was announced.

Anyone interested in working with the girls are asked to contact Mary Duff at 697-7579 Kay Kimball at 483-2370 or Marie Lyson at HO 1-6292.

"Furthermore," Baker said, "the Army is doing its part in rebuilding Detroit by breathing new life into a building that, like many of its neighbors, stood empty and apparently useless."

Brigadier Briggs added that the new site, just west of the main Post Office, is only a few blocks from the present Men's Social Service Center and keeps the Army near downtown Detroit and in the general area of those it serves.

The Detroit's Men's Social Service Center, the largest of all such centers in the country, provides housing and work therapy for up to 300 men. They will live in the new center and be employed in the center's workshops, on the Salvation Army's trucks and in the Red Shield stores.

The building will also have a dining room seating 300, a recreation room, a hobby room, library and the chapel. There will also be two apartments to be used for social workers or for guests, a doctor's and nurse's office and offices for the center's staff. The Red Shield store will occupy nearly half of the first floor.

About half of the structure will become specialized workshops for various kinds of work needed to restore household discards.

The Detroit Men's Social Service Center is non-denominational and supports itself by collecting, repairing and selling discards. It serves homeless and jobless men.

Services are tonight

By PEARL MORRIS

This evening (Wednesday) Nov. 24) a Thanksgiving Eve service will be held at the United Methodist Church on Huron River Dr., New Boston. Rev. Hal Ferris will be delivering the message and there will be special music by the combined choirs of the Romulus and New Boston United Methodist churches. Mrs. Ada Scott of Romulus will be directing the group in the singing of "I Will Thank Thee, O Lord" and Miss Nancy Fuller of New Boston will play the organ. Everyone is welcome. The time is 7:30 p.m.

Mrs. Katherine Clark of Whitehorn Street attended the Ice Capades at Olympia last Tuesday night in company with her son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Clark and daughters, Janice and Lisa, of Dearborn Heights. Mrs. Clark, who sat with her party in the front row, was surprised during intermission when a member of the cast skated over and presented her with two dozen red rose buds! The presentation had been planned by the management as a complete surprise to the recipient and her relatives when it learned Mrs. Clark would be attending the production in a wheelchair. The Clark party also had an opportunity to talk to several members of the cast who skated over after the show.

The following were recent out-of-town visitors at the home of Mrs. Pearl Shick on Perry Street: Mrs. Ivan Levey of Dundee, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Futrell of Richmond, Va., and Mrs. Ruth Shick of Monroe. Mrs. Levey and Mrs. Futrell are sisters of Mrs. Shick.

Mrs. Susan Hengstepeck and 7-month-old daughter, Mary Lee, of Kalamazoo spent a few days last week visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Pete Glaab of Hannan Road.

Mrs. Delores Skiff has moved back to 36822 Perry Street (the former Nicoline residence). Mrs. Skiff had been residing with Mrs. Roy VanNest of Bibbins Street.

Tom Boik, 11, returned to his home on Merriman Road this past week after spending two weeks as a patient at Seaway Hospital in Trenton. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Harland Boik.

Jack Gene Shick of Romulus

Avenue was able to return to work Monday after being injured in a motorcycle accident two weeks ago.

Mrs. Ella Mulberry of Wick Road and her aunt, Mrs. Ella Johns of Crystal Falls, recently returned from a plane trip to Elmonte, Calif. Mrs. Johns visited a nephew near Los Angeles while Mrs. Mulberry spent the final two weeks with her husband, Gene, who was on a teaching assignment for Burroughs Corp. in Elmonte for a month.

Mrs. John Kirda of Huron River Drive South is spending a week with her daughter and grandchildren, Mrs. Melina Dale and two children, in Sunland, Calif.

Jack Shick of Romaine Street is a patient undergoing observation at this writing at Annapolis Hospital, Wayne.

Harmon Schonfeld Jr., son of the Harmon Schonfelds Sr. of Pennsylvania Road, was doubly lucky this deer hunting season. Schonfeld shot a seven-point buck Oct. 18 while hunting in Wyoming. On Nov. 19 he felled a five-pointer at Jackson.

Mrs. Mattie Holloway of Niagara Street (formerly of Detroit) left Tuesday morning by air from Metro Airport, bound for Las Vegas, Nev. to spend Thanksgiving with her niece, Florette Ford.

Sid Rose, William Oakley, Bill Oakley, George Oakley, Joe Oakley, all of Romulus and Harvey Rhodes, son Sid and Willis Hubbard of Belleville were among hunters at the Burr-Oaks Club near Atlanta this deer season.

Salvation Army starts Yule drive

The Christmas season for the Salvation Army begins this Friday at noon. This is the start of its Christmas Appeal, and the first bulb on the Tree of Lights will be turned on by Detroit Mayor Roman S. Gribbs.

This year's chairman of the Salvation Army Christmas Committee is Francis E. Cogsdill of Chrysler Corp. Cogsdill is the introductory speaker, and the Tree of Lights kickoff again will be sponsored by the Standard Federal Savings & Loan Association.

Walter J.L. Ray, Standard Federal chairman, will present the Army with a $1,000 check.

Detroiters will raise their voices in a Christmas Carol sing-along. Bob Reynolds, WJR sportscaster, and other Detroit notables will be on hand for the traditional beginning of the Salvation Army's Christmas Appeal.

To make it a happier Christmas for more than 60,000 individuals in the metropolitan area, the goal this year is $100,000. Many events are planned to spread Christmas cheer: Golden Agers' parties; hot, full-course meals for homeless men; thousands of dinners to needy families; hospitals and rest homes visited; toy shops for children and many other thoughtful services.

Everyone is cordially invited to come down and join in the ceremonies at the Salvation Army's Tree of Lights.

License plates are on sale now

After a long waiting line by getting 1972 automobile license plates now, said John Barber, manager of the Belleville branch of the Secretary of State Office.

All license plates in the form of tabs are now available at the local branch, located at West Columbia Avenue and High Street, the site of John Barber, Inc.

Passenger and motorcycle plates expire at midnight March 31. Commercial and trailer plates expire on Feb. 29.

When applying for plates at the local branch office motorists are asked to bring proof of ownership (title of car or prepared application received from the Secretary of State Office, proof of insurance for public liability and property damage.

If not insured, bring additional funds in the amount of $45 to cover Motor Vehicle Accident Claims Fund Fee.

to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Bonnell of Wahrman Road.

Mrs. Hazel Patch of Detroit, a former resident of New Boston, made a surprise visit of Bell Road and brother-in-law and sister Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hart, and mother to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Bonnell of Wahrman Road.

Mr. and Mrs. Bonnell have adopted grandparents at the Van Buren Nursing Home in Belleville, remembering them on their birthdays and having get acquainted teas and doing different things for the holidays.

The density would be approximately 10 to 11 dwelling units per acre consisting of four-plex and five-plex buildings, townhouses and garden apartments.

Dresner said that the condominium development would have units that would sell for approximately $25,000-$35,000 each and would not be subsidized. He stated that construction would begin with models being built on the Ecorse Road frontage of the land parcel.

A motion made by Donald Carlson to deny the request and supported by Mrs. Jean Morris was unanimously approved by the commission.

Meeting set on pollution act

Nearly 30,000 Michigan businesses have less than six weeks to comply with the requirements of the 1970 Water Pollution Surveillance Act. The Michigan State Chamber of Commerce will provide business representatives with the necessary technical assistance for compliance by holding a statewide conference to be held Wednesday, Dec. 1, at The Olds Plaza Hotel in Lansing, Harry R. Hall, state chamber president announced Monday.

The Michigan act, which requires business to pay the Michigan Water Resources Commission for necessary investigation, monitoring and surveillance of waste water discharges, is the first of its kind in the country. The act becomes effective on Jan. 1, 1972.

Key speakers at the day-long conference will include the author of the act, Rep. Raymond J. Smit of Ann Arbor and Al Balden, industrial representative to the Water Resources Commission. Smit is a member of the House of Representatives Conservation and Recreation Committee. Afternoon workshops will provide opportunities to discuss in detail the treatment and handling of organic and inorganic substances included on a Register of Critical Materials for surveillance. Water Resources Commission staff members will explain administrative procedures for reporting effluent quantity and composition.

Specialists from Michigan auto manufacturing, electroplating and chemical industries will lead discussions to develop implementation techniques to handle these materials.

Persons who wish to register for the conference may contact George Graff, manager of environmental programs, Michigan State Chamber of Commerce, Lansing.

Wayne State cross country runners Julius Aiello, Geoff Lane, Al Mette, Rich Sands, Frank Tymrak and Keith Wright all gained a share of the Lawrence Tech course record when their blanket finish was timed in 22:23.5 for the four-mile circuit.

Planners deny zoning request

The Van Buren Township Planning Commission has denied a request to rezone approximately seven acres of land on the south side of Ecorse Road between Morton-Taylor and Haggerty roads.

The Lamta Corp. of Detroit had requested a special meeting with the township planning commission to review its petition for rezoning of the land parcel, with the new commission members.

Representing the firm were Joseph Dresner and Lawrence LoPatin. Also present were representatives of Progressive Associates, architects.

The firm requested a rezoning of C-2 (planned shopping) to R-M (multiple dwelling).

A tentative overall site plan showing the entire 200-acre site as it could be developed, including school site, recreation areas and shopping centers, was presented to the planners.

In our opinion

Thanksgiving is day for restoring values

Every nation has its cherished customs and traditions. Some date to the beginning of Christianity or even further.

Some are of more recent origin, such as Thanksgiving, which had its inception in what is now the United States when a small band of Pilgrims, newly landed on the hostile shores of New England, gave thanks for the mere fact of being alive.

Thanksgiving has become a solidly entrenched American institution. It offers firm reassurance of the continuity and stability of all that is good and wholesome in U.S. life today.

As families and friends gather together to share the repast of Thanksgiving, they should pause to recall the purpose of that first day of thanks participated in by a handful of Pilgrims few centuries ago. That purpose is an expression of simple appreciation for the fact of survival - of being alive.

We are not only alive today, but we have a nation that attained heights beyond anything the Pilgrims could have dreamed.

In attaining those heights, our country stands in danger of losing its sense of values.

Tomorrow - Thanksgiving - is appropriate day to pledge their restoration.

Support your Goodfellows

Depending upon where you live or travel throughout Western Wayne County, chances are that you will be asked to buy a Goodfellows' newspaper some time between Friday - when the first of the area sales will take place in Wayne - and Dec. 18.

We urge most strongly that everyone make a point of buying a Goodfellow newspaper - there is no maximum price per copy - so that no child in Western Wayne County will go without a toy or a dinner for Christmas.

While the Goodfellow newsboy will say "thanks" when you purchase one of his newspapers, your real satisfaction will be that inner glow you'll have when you visualize some youngster chomping on a turkey drumstick instead of a scrap of hamburger.

A year ago, this newspaper sought out two recipients of Goodfellow packages to find out just how much the gifts of food and toys meant. The results were touching indeed.

It turned out both families were large and had been set back by serious illnesses that were about to create dismal Christmases for the 16 children involved.

The local Goodfellow drives are one time of year when you can do something for persons who are really your neighbors. So be sure to contribute a dollar, or just anything, on the following Goodfellow days:

Wayne - Friday and Saturday morning; Westland and Belleville - both Dec. 3-4; Canton Township - Dec. 4; Inkster, Dec. 10; Romulus - Dec. 10-11; Sumpter Township - Dec. 11; Garden City - Dec. 17-18; Huron Township - Dec. 18.

In addition, why not spend an hour helping the Goodfellows sell the newspapers too?

In years gone by...

A look through The Daily Eagle files at news of Western Wayne County one, 15 and 25 years ago:

25 YEARS AGO

Nov. 24, 1946 - Something "new" in the line of new business services is being offered to the Wayne community by Anthony Stofa and several other World War II veterans who are opening a "family recording" business.

A state champion degree team from the Royal Oak Eagle aerie formally inducted a group of members of Wayne Nankin Aerie into the organization.

Attending the impressive ceremonies were many Eagle officials from Detroit, Dearborn, Ann Arbor and Ypsilanti, headed by Ernest Hoult, state vice president, who welcomed the candidates into the order.

Selection of six-member committee to judge officially the entries in the contest for a new seal for the City of Belleville was made at the City Council meeting.

Members of the committee are the heads of six organizations in Belleville, as follows: Mrs. Lester Hanna, Woman's Study Club; Mrs. Harold Cullin, V.F.W. Auxiliary; William Warnecke, Kiwanis Club; Harry Agge, Veterans of Foreign Wars; Lewis Robson, Rotary Club, and Ray Clift, Junior Chamber of Commerce.

15 YEARS AGO

Nov. 24, 1956 - The Humdingers provided music for the teen dance at the Wayne Rec. Hall, which was the last dance of the local group for 1956.

Nate Weiser, acting for the sponsoring Rotary club, said that the teen council elected by the Teen Club will meet to consider plans for the future.

The annual Thanksgiving Love Feast co-sponsored by the Rising Sun Lodge, Hiram Lodge, St. Luke's Lodge, all A. F. & M. Masons and the Ruth Chapter of O.E.S., was held at the Mission Baptist Church.

The program consisted of a one-hour service of song and words of Thanksgiving, featuring the Inkster Aires quartet, Ruth Chapter chorus, the Rev. Johnson at the piano, soloist, Sister Henderson plus talks by the Rev. Searcey and lodge officers.

The first social activity of the St. Mel's Men's Club, a get acquainted dance, was held at the Knights of Columbus Hall in Wayne. More than 60 couples enjoyed dancing to the music of Richard Kirk and his Cardinals.

A $30,000,000 revenue bond issue will go on sale early in December to finance a new hanger building and freight building for American Airlines at the Detroit-Wayne Major Airport.

ONE YEAR AGO

Nov. 24, 1970 - Community interest and increasing enrollment may save Inkster's branch of the Wayne County Community College - the Milton Center - from extinction.

According to Mrs. Delores P. Smith, the school's coordinator, response to the center's plight has resulted in approximately 50 enrollments to date.

Thanksgiving weekend fun awaits the whole family at Greenfield Village and Henry Ford Museum. The vast Ford collections of Americana vividly recall the days of the first Thanksgiving and the 300 years of our heritage since.

The Enot Foundry, 36254 Annapolis Ave., Wayne, has been cited for 10 separate violations of the Wayne County Air Pollution Control Regulations.

According to 29th District Court Judge John Seiler, 10 warrants were issued by him for the violation of county regulations. Representatives of the firm are to appear in his court room at 9 a.m. Dec. 16 to answer the charges.

Lansing report

Milliken may renounce pay hike

By DON HOENSHELL

Michigan will allow Gov. William Milliken to renounce his $5,000 salary increase despite a legal wrinkle that could lead to a lawsuit to get it back.

Atty. Gen. Frank J. Kelley's office dusted off a 1932 Michigan Supreme Court decision to fit the Milliken case.

Assistant Atty. Gen. Russell A. Searl said the state can pay officials anything they choose below the maximum but they can sue in the court of claims within three years to get it back.

Milliken renounced the increase from $40,000 to $45,000 a year because of the state's financial crisis. Five legislators gave up their boost from $15,000 to $17,000 for six months and Rep. Earl E. Nelson (D-Lansing) stayed at the old rate for a full year.

The Supreme Court last week in an unrelated case ruled that the state could not pay an employee more than it legally promised and the employee could not accept less.

Milliken has asked Glenn S. Allen, his legal counsel to see if President Nixon's Pay Board can block the $5,000 increase. William Hettiger, director of the department of administration, says it isn't necessary.

"It's really a tempest in a teapot," Hettiger said. "The attorney general's office advises us that we can pay him at $40,000."

"We're not going to force him to take the $5,000. There doesn't seem to be any way we can force it upon him, even if we wanted to."

Searl said that any of the officials who gave up their raises for any period can file notice in the court of claims within a year and start the suit within three years.

The 1932 decision indicates they would get the amount of the raise renounced earlier Searl said.

That case involved the request of Wayne County during the height of the depression to ask its circuit court judges already in office to take a cut in pay when new judges started their terms in 1933.

"So the Wayne County judges voluntarily waived part of their salaries," Searl said. "Later they changed their minds and they started a test case."

"The court held that a public official's salary is not a matter of contract and that any waiver involving it is invalid."

But as a "practical matter" Searl said "there's no reason why we shouldn't comply with" the wishes of public officials regarding their salaries.

State eyes dog racing and off-track betting

By EDUARDE E. MAHALAK
State Representative
38th District

One high priority item is the mass transportation package which was introduced as the fall session got under way.

This is a series of bills which would create a fund to aid in the development of mass transportation systems in urban areas, expand the authority of the Department of State Highways to cover public mass transportation, increase the state motor fuel tax, permit the establishment of regional airport authorities and revise the formula for distributing state motor fuel tax funds to counties.

Taxes on horse race betting have been a readily available and comparatively painless way for many states to raise additional revenue. Presently, some 29 states tax on-track betting. The pari-mutuel tax raises about 2 per cent of Michigan's general fund revenue.

Michigan, following the lead of other states, is looking into other similar types of revenue that could add millions to the state treasury. Bills presently pending would legalize dog racing and off-track betting and offer a constitutional amendment for a state lottery.

The lottery would have to be approved by voters since the state constitution presently prohibits it. However, it can be placed on the ballot by a two-thirds vote of each house of the legislature. New Hampshire, New York and New Jersey already have state lotteries.

Both the House and Senate this year adopted resolutions to put the lottery question before voters. Minor differences in the two versions will have to be resolved before the matter is ready for a public vote, probably in the November, 1972 election.

Supporters of the proposal estimate that the lottery could raise between $11 million and $25 million a year, to be divided between the state and local governmental units.

A bill that passed in the House and is now in committee in the Senate would provide for the state licensing of off-track betting agencies. Initially there would be six agencies with a centralized computer coordination of bets and payoffs.

Additional agencies could be established later. There would

Art: means doing something

By MRS. MARY M. SMITH Art Teacher, North Jr. High School, Belleville

Art is really worthless until you consider that it is the only basic difference between man and animal.

No animal appreciates art. What about the monkey who does the painting that wins art shows? The obvious answer to that is that an intelligent human being chose and entered the monkey's painting in the art show.

Many animals can create a beautiful piece of work. Most of nature is beautiful. But, it takes the intelligent, trained and appreciative eye of a human being to see this beauty and use it to make his life more pleasant. An ugly world is unpleasant.

An ugly world with its unpleasantness can cause tension and violence. Art alone is not going to be the salvation of the world but is a world without art and beauty worth saving?

Every human being is capable of learning to see beauty. At the Belleville Junior High Schools this learning begins with some action. If you were lucky enough to have an art class, you may recall that it was one of the reliefs of the day where you could "do something." In this respect, art has not changed and may never change. "Doing something" is what art is all about.

Simply making beauty is a creative decision-making process where mistakes are easily recognized when compared to art work that "looks right." Many times a student will say "Mrs. Smith, this doesn't look right." And usually the student will be correct. Seeing beauty requires some trained seeing.

The art program in the Belleville North and South Junior High Schools concentrates on training the way of seeing in a relaxed atmosphere of "doing something."

Art appreciation never was the never will be something you learn from a book.

10-day course offered nurses

An intensive, 10-day long course for nurses who want to work in hospital coronary care units or emergency and recovery rooms and nursing supervisors and educators is being offered by the Michigan Heart Association at its Central Office, 16310 West 12 Mile Rd., Southfield.

The class with a capacity of 30, will begin Monday Nov. 29 and close Friday, Dec. 10. It will offer 17 subjects to be taught by 16 local physicians and four nursing experts. Interested nurses should write the Heart Association or telephone Mrs. Eleanor Peterson, the association's nurse educator at 557-9500.

This class is the second sponsored by the association, a United Fund agency, since the Michigan Association for Regional Medical Programs, a federal agency, withdrew support last August because of lack of funds.

In three years, ending August, 1971, MARMP had financed more than 35 such classes throughout the state. The association, which now has to charge a nominal fee, has sponsored a series of classes in 1966-68.

Dr. Gerald M. Breneman, president of the association, said coronary care units usually can reduce hospital heart deaths by about half. Experts of the American Heart Association estimated that when such units are generally available throughout the nation, they will save more than 50,000 lives a year.

Army personnel get large raises

Announcement was made recently of a pay raise for U.S. Army personnel and Sgt. Bob Maine, Army recruiter in Romulus said the raise will solve the dilemma of young men wishing a pay scale comparable to that of civilian industry.

The pay raise is part of the new military pay act, passed on Sept. 28. It had not been effective until today because of President Nixon's freeze on wages and prices.

Under the new pay scales, newly-enlisted soldiers will receive $268.50 per month, which is double what they have been paid under the former pay bill.

The new pay rates mark the first time in many years the U.S. Army has been in a competitive position with business and industry in offering attractive salaries.

"When you add the pay offered a young man or woman with the traditional benefits we have always been able to promise them, the Army becomes a very attractive career choice," the sergeant said. "For example," he noted, "we have always led the way in retirement benefits and free medical and dental care." "We also offer the chance to select a wide variety of technical schools to those who qualify or to enlist to serve in Europe, the East, Panama, Alaska or Hawaii." "For those who are seeking opportunity, adventure and challenge, the Army should be investigated," he concluded.

For more information on the new pay scales and additional details on Army career opportunities, see Sgt. Maine at his office located at 3716 Newberry St. in Wayne Post Office. Or, call him at 722-3388.

City asked to help finance brochure

Romulus' two new city cars will be purchased from Ray Whitfield Ford Inc. of Taylor.

A request to the Romulus City Council for financial assistance and cooperation in the production of a brochure for the promotion of the City of Romulus has been taken under advisement by the city council.

The request was submitted to the council last week by Doug Baum, president of the Romulus-Metro International Chamber of Commerce, sponsors of the proposed brochure.

The council was told that the brochure is being printed by the Tri State Publications Co. of Livonia and will be larger and more detailed than a brochure printed by the same firm in 1961 on instruction and approval of the Romulus Township administration.

The chamber plans the printing of 5,000 copies of the new larger and more complete brochure with 1,200 copies being mailed to industry and manufacturers throughout the United States and 400 copies to local businesses.

A deluxe do-ahead dessert you can serve to company

When you have guest that prompt the use of your finest china and serving dishes, you also want to serve the finest food - and this Frozen Chocolate Cheese Pie certainly falls into that category.

Chocolate pie is a national favorite. And when it has the delicate flavor of Baker's German's Chocolate, plus the additional richness of cream cheese, and is frozen to ice cream goodness - well, who can resist it!

But don't let the elegant appearance of the pie deceive you, it's really very simple to prepare. You can whip it up early in the morning and serve it for a late afternoon or evening party. Although it can be made a day in advance, longer storage is not recommended for best flavor and texture.

Frozen Chocolate Cheese Pie

- 1 package (4 oz.) sweet cooking chocolate
- 2 tablespoons milk
- 1 package (3-oz.) cream cheese

- 1-3 cup sugar
- 2 tablespoons milk
- 1 envelope whipped topping mix
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- Dash of cinnamon
- 1/2 teaspoon vanilla
- 1 baked 8-inch graham cracker crumb crust

Place chocolate and 2 tablespoons milk over hot (not boiling) water; stir until chocolate is partially melted. Remove from hot water and stir until smooth.

Sixty congratulate Farris on anniversary

Congratulations were in order Sunday, November 14, for Mr. and Mrs. Roy Farr of 840 Ford Boulevard, Ypsilanti, who were the honored guests at a silver wedding anniversary party.

The celebration was held at the Belleville home of Mrs. Farr's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Carnegie Griffith of Huron River Drive and was co-hosted by Mrs. Farr's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Whitmer of Ypsilanti; and also the Farr's daughter and son-in-law, Gail and Gary Thompson; and their son, Greg Farr.

Sixty guests traveled from Milan, Belleville and Ypsilanti for the two 'til six open house which featured a buffet lunch and three-tiered wedding cake which had been made by an aunt of Mrs. Farr, Mrs. Robert Greasehaber of Milan.

The former Alice Whitmer wore for her special day a mauve polyester culotte gown belted in silver which had been made by her daughter, Mrs. Thompson. She was also presented with a corsage of purple orchids.

That Michigan is one of the leaders in the growing of cultivated mushrooms?

The Great Lakes Mushroom Cooperative located in Warren is responsible for a large percentage of the fresh mushrooms grown as well as canned mushrooms.

Extensive research programs have established that cultivated mushrooms are an important nutritive part of our diet. Cultivated mushrooms are higher in protein than any vegetable and the protein contained is equal to muscle protein in nutritional value.

VERSATILE SOPHISTICATION — A woman leaves her daily life behind her on special occasions and today's pattern is a spectacular tribute to the feminine mystique. Old-world crochet squares are joined together for a versatile poncho that creates a completely different line by turning it around to an alternate position so the points are center front and back in the traditional manner. The poncho is glamorous enough to wear over a maxi, fun to wear over pants and practical enough to wear with a modified version of the shirt lines in a matching or contrasting color. Directions are also included for a beautiful bed coverlet and ALL items are made of 4 ply yarn. Squares are joined while working, which eliminates the necessity of sewing or crocheting them together later. Sizes small, medium and large are ALL in one pattern. TO ORDER: CROCHET 728 — LACY SQUARES PONCHO & SKIRT. (Bed Coverlet) send $1.50 in currency, check or money order to Lois Holmes of California. Holiday fare for diabetics

These days, there is no need for the diabetic in the family to feel excluded when the clan gathers for the traditional Thanksgiving turkey. His holiday meal will very likely look like a feast to the calorie-conscious who are trying to stick to the latest weight-reducing diet.

There is nothing to prevent a diabetic from enjoying a Thanksgiving dinner that is appetizing and satisfying and gives him no cause to be jealous of the rest of the group.

The following menu shows how he can eat well from appetizer through dessert with turkey and trimmings along the way. He will have his essential nutrients and have the whole meal within his diet prescription. The entire family will find these recipes a delicious complement to their festive meal:

THANKSGIVING DAY DINNER MENU FOR THE DIABETIC - I

1 cup consomme
roast turkey (1 ounce cooked for each Meat Exchange allowed) bread stuffing (¼ cup stuffing for each Bread Exchange allowed) green beans
1 wedge of lettuce
1-3 cup cranberry relish
1 portion of pumpkin custard

Cranberry Relish

1 pound or 4 cups cranberries
1 orange
1 unpeeled apple
Noncaloric sweetener to taste

Grind all fruit together in a food chopper. Add the noncaloric sweetener in the amount desired. Mix well and chill. Serve with lettuce or watercress. (Serve 8; 40 calories in one serving. Note to diabetics: 1 fruit exchange)

Pumpkin Custard

2 cups cooked or canned pumpkin
2 eggs
1 cup skim milk
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1 teaspoon ginger
12 tablets saccharin (¼ grain) Dissolve in 1 tablespoon of water.)

Beat the eggs and combine with the saccharin. Add the milk and mix well. Add the spices and pour into an 8-inch pie pan. Bake in a moderate oven for 50 to 60 minutes. Test by inserting a knife near the edge. When it comes out clean the custard is finished. Cut into 6 equal portions when chilled. This custard will keep the pie-wedge shape without a crust. (Serves 6; 61 calories in one serving. Note to diabetics: 1 B vegetable and ½ meat exchange)

For a change of pace, the diabetic and his family might have the following meal:

½ cup melon ball fruit cup (one Fruit Exchange) roast chicken mashed potatoes (½ cup for each Bread Exchange allowed) brussel sprouts
celery hearts
1 portion cranberry whip with custard sauce

Cranberry Whip with Custard Sauce

1-½ cups cranberries
¾ cup water
1 tablespoon plain gelatin
¼ cup cold water
3 egg whites
1-½ teaspoon lemon juice
6 saccharin tablets-¼ grain (Dissolve in 1 tablespoon water)

Custard Sauce

3 egg yolks
1 cup milk
¼ teaspoon vanilla
few grains salt
3 tablets saccharin-¼ grain (Dissolve in 1 tablespoon water)

Wash the cranberries and place in a saucepan covered with water. Bring to a boil and cover the pan, allowing the berries to cook slowly for 8 to 10 minutes. Stir occasionally. When well cooked, remove from the stove and put through a sieve. Mix the gelatin with ¼ cup cold water and allow to swell; dissolve by placing over hot water. Add the dissolved gelatin to the cranberry mixture. Mix well and chill. Beat egg whites until stiff. When the mixture of dissolved gelatin begins to thicken, add beaten egg whites. Add lemon juice and noncaloric sweetener as desired. Beat well with rotary egg beater. Divide into 6 equal portions and place in refrigerator to chill.

To prepare the custard sauce proceed as follows: Combine the beaten egg yolks and salt. Scald milk and add slowly, stirring constantly. Cook in the top of a double boiler until the mixture coats the spoon. Add the vanilla and cool. Add dissolved saccharin and mix well. Divide the 6 equal portions and pour over the cranberry whip when ready to serve. (Serves 6; 72 calories in one serving. Note to diabetics: ½ milk exchange, ½ fruit exchange and 1 meat exchange).

Meals like these have two advantages for the diabetic; he has the same Thanksgiving fare, though not necessarily as much of it, as the rest of the family enjoys; in addition, he should leave the table feeling somewhat better than the others because he will not have overeaten.

The menus and recipes given here are taken from A Cookbook for Diabetics, published by the American Diabetes Association. Available for one dollar ($1) from Michigan Diabetes Association, 6131 West Outer Drive, Detroit, Michigan 48235.

A lovelier you Do you play the 'heavy'?

By Mary Sue Miller

Many fashion designers direct their talents to dressing plump half-sizes. Stores devote a section to the size range. Yet you hear women say, "I've given up trying to find smart clothes. There's nothing with any style for the short, heavy figure."

Well, try again. This winter, clothes adroitly unite flattery and the newest fashions. These are the details to look for:

Skirts eased via gores or unpressed pleats.

Cardigan jackets, hip-bone length, with roomy armholes.

Dresses featuring V-necklines, lightly-fitted long sleeves, narrow belts that sit easy at the natural waistline, and skirts with "walking" room. Always avoid a tight fit, lest it accentuate curves.

Coats — moderate fullness, hanging from a neat shoulderline.

Fabrics — light in weight, but with some body. Never clinging.

Color — black, with touches of light if desired; navy, rich

Yule antique show to begin

Shoppers at the Detroit Christmas Antique Show, in the Light Guard Armory, Dec. 1-5, will find the world is their marketplace in the show's 150 exhibits.

Leading antiques dealers from 86 cities in 21 states will fill two floors of the armory on East Eight Mile Road with antiques and collectibles gathered from the four corners of the world.

Several exhibitors have just returned from overseas buying trips or excursions into the highways and byways of American and Canadian antiques source-lands.

Collectors who long for glamour-shrouded props from famous movies or souvenir antiques from America's great mansions, such as the late Anna Thompson Dodge's Rose Terrace, will have a chance to purchase some of these coveted treasures at the Detroit Christmas Show.

In keeping with the show's theme of "Give an antique for Christmas," all exhibits will contain antiques and collector's items suitable for Christmas giving. Every taste and every budget will be covered in their wide variety.

As a sampling, there will be furniture, primitives, dolls, pattern glass, china, silver, pewter, books (collector's books as well as a complete selection of reference works on every phase of antiques and collecting; clocks, jewelry, lamps, paperweights, banks, custom made floral arrangements in antique containers, tree ornaments—to name only the beginning.

A clockman, Emil Pattyn, will service repairable old clocks and music boxes brought in by show visitors. For a reasonable charge he will inspect the faulty mechanisms and give an estimate. Minor repairs will be done on-the-spot during the show.

Free parking is available on the grounds. Christmas need not be a continuous headache

T'was the night before Christmas and all through the house not a creature was stirring — mother was exhausted, the children weren't speaking and dad was fuming because his 'bargain' tree was already shedding — and he hadn't even taken it out of the garage!

Sound familiar? While Christmas is anticipated with delight by most families, a "Bah! Humbug!" attitude often sets in as physical and emotional fatigue take their toll. To relieve some of this year's pressures, the Bayer Co. suggests you break the season down to its six major elements and allow planning, as well as execution time, for each. Here's how:

Card lists should be pruned before writing begins — there are always people on them who are really more than the ghosts of Christmases past. Begin to write cards in November doing a couple of dozen a few evenings a week. This year you might want to experiment with the "letter" card — you write a letter bringing people up-to-date on family highlights and have it made into your Christmas card.

Gift-buying, the second element, is easier and faster when it is organized. Purchase a soft notebook and clip a pen to it. Devote two facing pages to each person and on the left side list all their clothing sizes; on the right side list their hobbies, sports, reading and other preferences.

Shopping itself is the most tiring and frustrating part of Christmas so use all the aids you can — catalogs, telephone, the mails. Divide your shopping forays into two days and two evenings per week — but don't shop on the evenings of the days you select, or vice versa. In that

Romulus takes bids for truck

The Romulus City Council has authorized the taking of bids on the purchase of a new fire truck for the Romulus Fire Department.

The city clerk was instructed to advertise for a new pumper truck on specifications to be submitted by Fire Chief Joseph Crova.

The fire department operates four fire halls situated throughout the city. The fire department currently has four fire trucks and one rescue truck.

way you do not continue to drive yourself when you are already under pressure and over-tired.

After each shopping trip, plan a regular rest period. take a leisurely bath, a couple of aspirin to relieve any headache or aching muscles that might have been caused by the tensions of the day, and lie down for 15 to 20 minutes — or relax with a cup of hot teacand your feet up.

Gift wrapping is best done as you go along rather than waiting until all your shopping is done. If you wait, chances are that other, equally time consuming emergencies will have arisen to demand your attention. and cause tensions.

Decorating the house and garden for Christmas is one of the more relaxing elements of Christmas. When shared by all members of the family it can be a festive occasion in itself. You'll find that seasonal music on the record player, cookies and hot chocolate are perfect accompaniments.

Cooking is the final phase of Christmas before the fun of entertaining begins. Figure out what you can cook ahead of time to freeze: puddings, pies, sweet breads, appetizers and home-made fudge, among other things. Cookies, of course, can be made ahead in quantity and stored in airtight containers. If the children are old enough, cookie decorating can be their responsibility—it adds to their feeling of involvement and relieves you of some of the details.

By planning these six major elements of Christmas ahead of time, relief is what you'll be feeling when the "night before Christmas" rolls around this year. You'll be relaxed and ready to enjoy Christmas Eve—amid the great sounds of happy people "stirring in your home."

For disadvantaged

PRIDE focuses on reading

The PRIDE (Providing Reading Impetus through Developmental Experiences) Project, a Title III - E.S.E.A. program, will focus on preventing reading failure in disadvantaged children through the implementation of the Wayne County Pre-Reading Program.

The Wayne County Pre-Reading Program is not a reading program; rather, it stresses providing children with developmental experiences which have been shown to correlate with future success or failure in a formal reading program.

PRIDE emphasizes a diagnostic and prescriptive approach for providing developmental experiences in the following areas:

Auditory (discrimination and memory)
Classifying
Expressive language
Haptic (kinesthetic and tactile)
Motor (fine and gross)
Spatial relations
Visual (discrimination and memory)

The PRIDE Project is a three-year program that will train teachers and paraprofessionals in the use of materials designed to prevent reading failure in the early grades.

First-year program goals include: 1) training of 100 Head Start teachers and aides in the techniques of diagnosing potential reading failure, 2) training 100 Head Start teachers and aides in the use of prescriptive teaching techniques, 3) implementing the Wayne County Preventing Reading Failure Program in participating Head Start programs, 4) alleviating identified weaknesses of Head Start pupils through prescriptive teaching techniques, and 5) disseminating this program in receiving kindergartens.

During the second and third years of the project, program activities will be basically the same, concentrating on kindergarten and first grade teachers respectively. In addition, the Wayne County Preventing Reading Failure Program will be extended to include local districts without Head Start programs.

Ultimately, the goal is to have some staff in every local district in Wayne County trained in the use of the program.

Participants in the first-year training program will include teachers and paraprofessionals from the Out Wayne County Head Start Program and the Archdiocesan Opportunity Program's Head Start.

Training sessions will be conducted by PRIDE's Staff Development Specialists, Diana Geddes and Wesley Garner. The director of the project is Walter Schumacher.

The Project office is located at the site of the Wayne County Federated Library System Headquarters Building, 33030 Van Born Road, Wayne, Michigan 48184. Phone: 313-729-7740.

Kresge foundation grants $50,000 to Girl Scout Council

The Kresge Foundation of Detroit has awarded a grant of $50,000 to the Huron Valley Girl Scout Council, it was announced Monday by Mrs. James A. Kennedy, president of the council.

The grant is to be applied toward the purchase of new administrative office facilities for the council.

The office of the Huron Valley Girl Scout Council has been located at 310 South Huron in Ypsilanti for 10 years. According to Mrs. Kennedy, the number of Girl Scouts served by the council has nearly doubled in ten years from 6,000 girls to 12,000 girls.

"We've simply outgrown our present office and need to find new facilities," she said. "The over-crowding makes council services much less efficient. One professional staff member even has her office in a hallway".

"We're elated and encouraged by the generosity of the Kresge Foundation," she said. "It will serve as an incentive for us to do what is necessary to get a new building soon." No definite plans have been made yet regarding purchase of a new office for the Girl Scouts, she said, but she expects a decision will be made within a few weeks.

The Huron Valley Girl Scout Council includes scouts in Washtenaw and Livingston counties, Monroe County and Western Wayne County, including the towns of Plymouth, Northville, Westland, Wayne, Belleville, Romulus, and Flat Rock.

School officials attend conference

More than 140 school officials from around the state attended a Clue-in Conference last week at the Ramada Inn, Romulus, co-sponsored by the Wayne-Westland Community Schools (WWCS) and the Kettering Foundation.

The WWCS is the only school district in Michigan to work as a facilitating agency for the Individually Guided Education (IGE) program.

IGE is a program of in-service education developed by the Institute for the Development of Educational Activities, IDEA, an affiliate of the Charles F. Kettering Foundation of Ohio.

Last week's conference was designed to share knowledge gained through the working arrangement with IGE with other school districts in the state. Federal program coordinators and intermediate school district superintendents were in attendance.

IGE is an inservice program to train teachers how to better individualize education.

The implement the IGE system, IDEA has designed an intensive training course of conferences, workshops, and audio-visual materials - all provided and coordinated by the curriculum division of the Wayne-Westland Community Schools.

IGE provides an instructional system in which each child is educated individually, according to his own style of learning, his level of ability and what he can realistically be expected to learn.

The IGE learning cycle would involve pre-assessment, design of a learning program for each child, implementation of the program and post-assessment.

The IGE elementary school employs non-grading, team teaching, differentiated teaching, multi-age grouping and decentralized decision making education concepts. According to Kenneth Carlson, the IGE coordinator for WWCS, a model organizational plan for IGE has already been developed and tested by the University of Wisconsin.

The IDEA model of IGE differs from the Wisconsin model in that individualizing is emphasized even more. Statewide plans for using the IGE model have already been developed in Wisconsin, Colorado and Ohio, Carlson said.

AT CONFERENCE — School officials from throughout the state participated in a "clue-in" conference yesterday at the Ramada Inn, Romulus. Among those in attendance were (standing, from left) Warren Spurlin, of the Wayne-Westland School District; Chris Fast of Taylor; Al Rollins, State Department of Education; Louis Kocsis, state department and Zenobia Jones, Inkster School District. Dr. Bill Miller (seated) of the Wayne County Intermediate Schools, goes over some material with the others.

Number 125 ceiling for 1971 draft calls

Random sequence number 125 has been set as the year-end ceiling for 1971 draft calls, Arthur A. Holmes, state director of Selective Service, has announced.

Class I-A registrants who are 20 years of age or older with RSN 125 or below who are not inducted in 1971 will have their liability for induction extended into 1972. They will be subject to induction during 1972 long with other men who are in the extended priority selection group.

Other registrants in Class I-A during 1971 with RSN 126 and over who have never been assigned to an extended priority group will be transferred to the second priority selection group in 1972 and will not be subject to induction except in a national emergency.

Deferred registrants with RSN 126 and over who have never been assigned to the extended priority group may drop their draft deferments in favor of a 1-A classification during the remainder of 1971. By dropping their deferments, these men complete their exposure to induction in 1971. They will then be transferred to a lower priority in 1972. They would be liable for induction only in a national emergency.

Application forms are available at all draft boards for registrants who wish to request termination of present deferments under this policy. Written requests must be received by local boards no later than December 31, 1971.

This policy applies to deferred registrants such as high school students in 1-S, occupational or technical student deferment in 2-A, agricultural deferments in 2-C, college students in 2-S, divinity students in 2-D or 4-D and hardship deferments in 3-A.

Inkster service station is robbed

An attendant at an Inkster filling station was robbed of $80 by an armed man Sunday afternoon.

Inkster police reported that Charles Molnar of 14242 Harrison in Romulus, was held up at 4:40 p.m. while he was putting money in the safe at the Texaco Gas Station at 26465 Michigan.

Molnar told police that the bandit had been standing inside the station for about 10 minutes drinking coffee before the robbery.

Molnar said he was putting the cash in the safe when the man came up behind him, placed what Molnar said felt like a knife to his back and demanded the money.

He gave the man a $20 bill and six $10 bills and said the suspect then fled south on John Daly on foot.

Veterans can hire tutors at VA expense

Veterans Administration reminded veterans studying under the G.I. Bill that they can hire a tutor at VA expense, if needed and still get the full educational allowance.

About 4,000 veterans received more than 60,000 hours of tutorial help in connection with their G.I. Bill educational studies, VA reported today.

VA officials noted that to be eligible for this benefit (established by the Veterans Education and Training Act of 1970), the veterans must be enrolled under the G.I. Bill above the high school level on half time or more basis.

If the veteran needs tutoring to pass a required course, VA allows up to $50 monthly for a maximum of nine months to pay for it.

These tutorial fees are in addition to the regular monthly education check the veteran receives, and are not chargeable to his basic entitlement, officials pointed out.

VA urged veterans interested in tutorial assistance or education benefits to contact their nearest VA office, or local veterans service organization representatives.

A THOUGHT TO REMEMBER

BY HAROLD REDISKE, DIRECTOR

Thanksgiving Day is basically a religious holiday to voice gratitude to God for His beneficence . . . When we think about it, it can and should be a day for double duty . . . It can and should be an opportune time to express thanks to friends and families for kindnesses received from them throughout the year.

Benjamin Franklin wrote about such kindnesses in these words: "I have received much kindness from men to whom I shall never have any opportunity of making the least direct return. And numberless mercies from God, Who is infinitely above being benefited by our services. These kindnesses from men I can therefore only return on their fellowmen and I can only show my gratitude for these mercies from God by a readiness to help His other children and my brethren."

We think Franklin's thought is appropriate for all of us to adopt and adapt to our use on this and every Thanksgiving . . . Don't you? . . .
